

Chapter Twelve: Title / First-Line Index for Auxiliary Hymnals as of September 2010

-----

NOTE: The links on this page are not working. When I changed from Microsoft FrontPage to Yahoo Sitebuilder two years ago, I had to copy this file to a .doc file, which kept the links, but they don't go anywhere. Please be patient as I work on this.

Not Done Yet!	This will be an on-going project. Come back and watch it grow as I learn and discover more - I am finding great joy in this journey.
Sacred, Popular, and 'Wiggle' Songs	Because many of these these volumes were compiled for children and youth, there are seasonal & recreational songs as well as 'activity' songs ('wiggle songs'.) I was not going to index the wiggle songs, but those with whom I conferred exclaimed most forcefully that wiggle songs are as much a part of our musical heritage as sacred songs. My target audience has spoken - I am including all songs titles in this index - sacred, seasonal, lullabies, nursery rhymes, and wiggle songs.
Titles/First Line	As a hymnist the proper way to title and list a hymn is by the first line of the text. But titles of these children's hymns were engrained into us as children and we just aren't going to give them up, so I am going to break the rules and list first by title and then by first line where needed.
Authors	Different hymnals will have different authors credited for the same text, but because research is on-going I will list them according to the most-recent volume - or the most-recent research.
Links to Texts	Texts that are more complete or original than what is in LDS hymnals are linked so you can read the complete/original texts.
"The"	Titles and first lines that begin with the word 'The', 'A', and 'An' as well as other prepositions are alphabetized under said prepositions, which is the way of doing things since the computer started alphabetizing for us.
Contractions	In some hymnals "There's" has been changed to "There is"; the same with other contractions. If you don't find a title one way, look for it the other way.
W. W. Phelps	Brother Phelps adapted and edited many hymns; some of his editing is still in use. Hymns marked with an author as "ed. by W.W. Phelps" or "adapt. by W. W. Phelps" are hymns he either edited or adapted. Hymns marked as "attributed to W.W. Phelps" are hymns attributed to him as no earlier copies are known and we're not sure if someone else wrote them or not.
Page Number vs. Hymn Number	LDS congregational hymnals lists hymns by hymn number. But some of these auxiliary hymnals list them by page number - those that do are noted with a "pg".

Here is a quick-list of the hymnals included in this index

An "X" shows which books are currently in the index; the rest will come.

1880	The Children's Primary Hymn Book ( children )
1884	Deseret Sunday School Union Music Book ( youth &amp; children )
1909	Deseret Sunday School Songs ( youth &amp; children )
1919	X Relief Society Song Book
1939	X Primary Song Book / Primary Association Song Book ( children ) NOTE: I have three copies of this hymnal, and the songs & page numbers are different between each copy – and none of the three have publishing dates or edition numbers. Hence in this file I am simply putting an "X" instead of a page number as I don't know which one is first edition and which are follow-ups.
1940	X Relief Society Songs - this was bound with opening rings so supplemental hymns could be printed and added; the copy I have has two such supplements.
1949	X Recreational Songs - this became known as a 'sing-along' book. I originally only indexed the sacred & inspirational texts, but I'm going to go back and add all of them to the index.
1951	X The Children Sing ( children )
1969	X Sing With Me ( children ) There were three supplements published:
	1977 - Activity Songs and Verses ( an entire volume of 'wiggle songs'! )
	X 1978 - More Songs for Children
	X 1982 - Supplement to More Songs for Children
	Supplemental songs will be listed by the year the supplement was published.
1989	X Children's Songbook ( children )
